Dear Parents and Guardians,

Another busy week draws to a close, but it was wonderful to be able to share The Wild Robot together for the PTFA film night. Children enjoyed the heart-warming story, as well as a snack and drink together, before beginning their weekends.

From the newest tech of the Rozzum Unit 7134 to that of the 1940s – children across the school have enjoyed the Anderson Shelter which ‘popped-up’ in our library this week. Remaining for the term, children have the opportunity to experience their favourite reads in this themed space.

This term's topic for Lancelot has been focused on crime and punishment throughout the ages. To round this history unit out for the half-term, the class visited HMP Shepton Mallet on Tuesday, the oldest prison in the country!

This immersive experience brought learning to life and gave valuable historical context to their classroom work. During the visit, children explored the original and later-built prison cells, learnt about daily life for prisoners in the past and discovered how attitudes towards crime and punishment have changed over time.

Representatives from Year 5 and 6 participated in a dodgeball tournament on Thursday at Preston Academy. The team demonstrated their strength in the team game from the outset, winning 5 out of their 6 games, drawing once against Oaklands and losing closely to Huish Primary in the final game. The team showed great spirit when one of our own was hit, ensuring they were OK before continuing, particularly if they had taken a couple of hits in a row – well done to everyone involved for representing the school so positively and energetically.

We are delighted to be hosting a Tuning into Kids course at Countess Gytha for 6 weeks following the half-term. The workshops provide a brilliant opportunity to build strategies to talk and understand your child and their emotions and as well as tips in how to manage these, from both the child and the parent perspective. These courses are always very positively received with great feedback from our families; if you are interested in signing up, please see the flyer below.

I would like you to join me in congratulating the following children who were recognised this week by their teachers for excellent hard work and dedication:

Congratulations Orson, you are Merlin's Star of the Week – for being very helpful around the classroom and a great role-model in demonstrating our classroom rules – very high praise, Orson! Well done Rylee, you are Merlin's Worker of the Week for great independent work in your maths – you have been working hard to solve lots of addition and subtraction problems – great work, young lady!

Pendragon – Congratulations Kairi, you are Pendragon's Star of the Week – for your fantastic listening skills and for always being kind to others – lovely news, Kairi! Pendragon's Worker of the Week this week goes to Harry, for using fantastic adjectives to describe the vegetables in Mr McGregor's garden – keep up the great work, Harry!

King Arthur – This week, we are celebrating Theo as Miss Bridge's Star of the Week, for working hard to join his handwriting and improve his presentation of all written work – great to hear you're applying such care, Theo! King Arthur's Worker of the Week goes to Hero, for his confident understanding of adding and subtracting pounds and pence in maths – great to hear, Hero!

Excalibur – Harrison is the Star of the Week in Excalibur, for always being helpful and kind to both your peers and adults around the school – you are a brilliant role model, keep it up! Excalibur's Worker of the Week is awarded to Ella, for an excellent effort in all of her work, leading to a very impressive increase in the pace of tasks achieved. You should be extremely proud of your efforts, Ella!

Lancelot – Grace has been recognised as Lancelot's Star of the Week for an outstanding extended write; full participation in the class trip, as well as fulfilling her prefect roles to the best of her abilities every day. She was also a brilliant team-player at the dodgeball event this week! Mr Gordon's Worker of the Week goes to Henry, for consistently applying himself with a quietly-determined attitude to all learning, as well as participating in all opportunities presented – top work ethic, young man!

A special mention to Emelia and Lily, who recently participated in a hockey tournament with their local team, Yeovil and Sherborne. The girls were keen to share their successes across the matches as well as invite others interested to the hockey training, which takes place weekly at Mudford Rec on a Saturday morning. There are a number of other children across the school who also play for this particular club and further details can be found here: <https://yshc.co.uk/new-members>
